Dear Highlanders,

This year the 1962 Clan staff has made many changes which we hope will add to the annual. In this, the third edition of the Clan, the staff decided upon a modern motif. The mobile theme depicts our modern way of life, which is evident in life at Eastern Hills.

Through additional pages, the staff was able to include an index and a feature section. The personality and sport sections were also enlarged.

We hope we have given you a complete picture of this past year's activities and many enjoyable memories.

Sincerely,

Karen Ruble

September Brings Sun-Burned Students Back to School

As usual, it is always hard to think about lessons when the school bell rings in September. However, with the first day of registration new friends are made and special activities get under way rather quickly. In order to acquaint sophomores with upperclassmen, a Howdy Dance is sponsored by Y-Teens. Soon after the year begins, members of the Clan and Tartan staffs kick off the subscription drive for their publications. All too soon the nine months will be gone and the first class to attend Eastern Hills for three years will be graduated.

NO, THIS IS NOT A DR. PEPPER COURSE.

Sgt. Shannon helps register

JUST WHERE ARE YOU GOING TO STICK

Linda Schwotzer and Steve Franks make preparations for the Tartan-Clan kick-off program.

Students give the team written support.

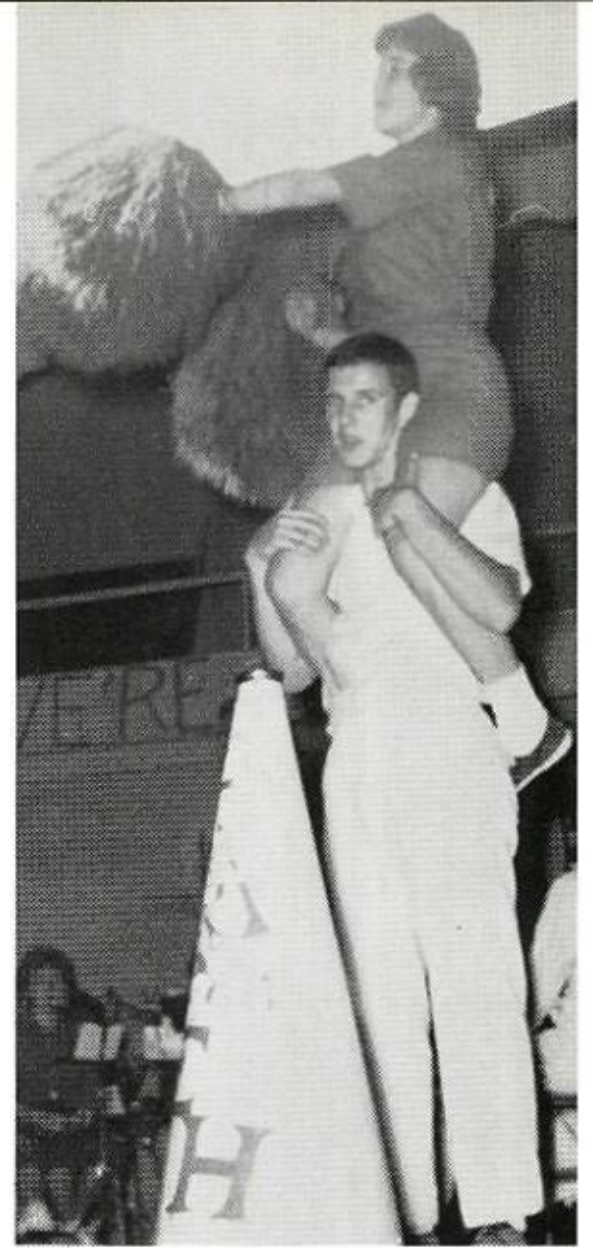

WHY, GLENN, WE DIDN'T KNOW!
Glenn Brandon takes up the art of twirling during a pep rally.

THANK GOODNESS FOR THAT INVISIBLE, PROTECTIVE SHIELD!!

Cheerleaders Linda Lawrence and Suzanne Hoffman seem to be converging upon Teddy Gober and Jimmy Schwalbe at EHHS's first bonfire.

WARD: WHY ME?

Linda Lawrence and Ward Ruscoe team up for a yell at one of the pep rallies.

For the first district football game, played with Paschal, students rallied behind the Highlanders and held the only bonfire in the history of EHHS. Approximately one-fourth of the student body followed the arrows to the site of the bonfire, the farm of Gail Brannon's grandfather.

WE BRUSH WITH IPANA!

Six of the Homecoming Queen nominees warm in front of the bonfire.

HOW DID I EVER GET THAT TREE IN MY LOCKER?

Ward and Judy set off the bonfire.

Homecoming, Banquet Conclude Football Year

Homecoming activities ended on a sweet note with a 21-0 victory over Tech. All football players, as well as cheerleaders and coaches, were honored at the end of the season with a banquet in the cafeteria.

WADE: HURRY UP, MIKE, MY HIP PADS ARE SLIPPING!

Mike Henry presents Homecoming Queen Carol Reeder with roses as Wade Walker prepares to crown the Queen.

SORRY, COACH. ALL WE HAVE FOR YOU IS A NICE, FIRM HANDSHAKE.

Wade Walker expresses team thanks at the football banquet to Coach Willingham.

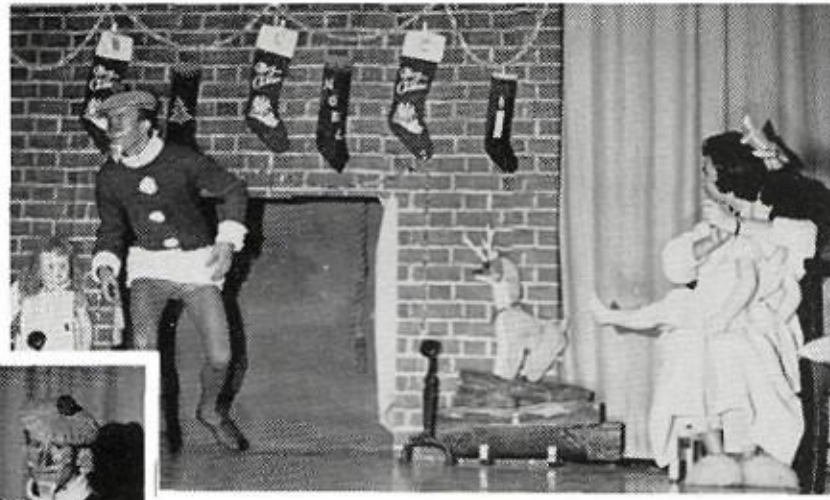

THIS ACT WILL NEVER MAKE LAS VEGAS!

Cheerleaders made up a special routine for the Homecoming pep rally.

THE MORE WE CLAP...

Wearing their jerseys, football boys show team spirit at the Homecoming pep rally.

MAMA! A BURGLAR IN A SANTA CLAUS SUIT!

Carolyn Kynard is happily awakened by Santa Claus Jack Gray in the Y-Teen Christmas doll show.

WHAT AM I GOING TO DO WITH THESE LEFTOVERS?

The backbone of the doll show is shown here in a group picture.

Santa Brings Dolls

Through the Christmas doll show, Y-Teens not only provided students with entertainment but also gave to needy families over a thousand cans of food, which were contributed by students as price of admission.

ARE YOU SURE IT DOESN'T HAVE FLEAS?

Gary Davis and Mike Henry, Davis's pet monkey, are given away to some poor on-looker.

I BET LOVE FIELD CAN'T HANDLE ME!

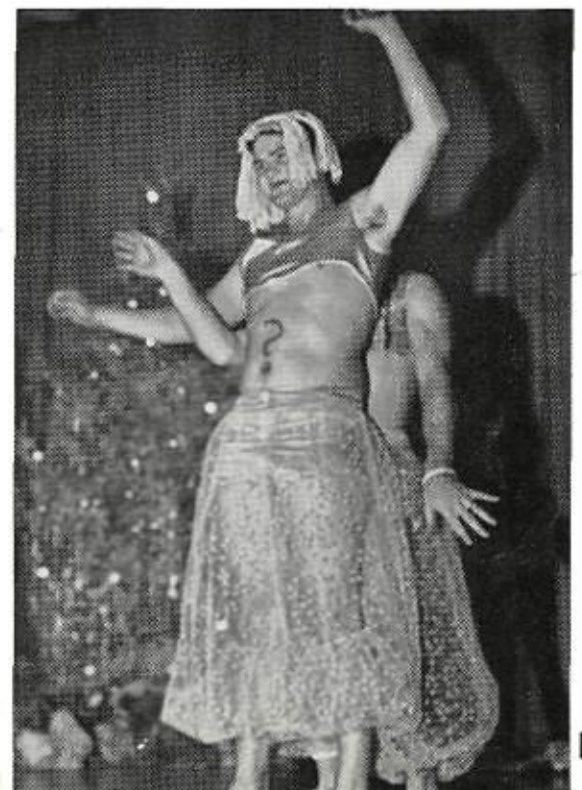

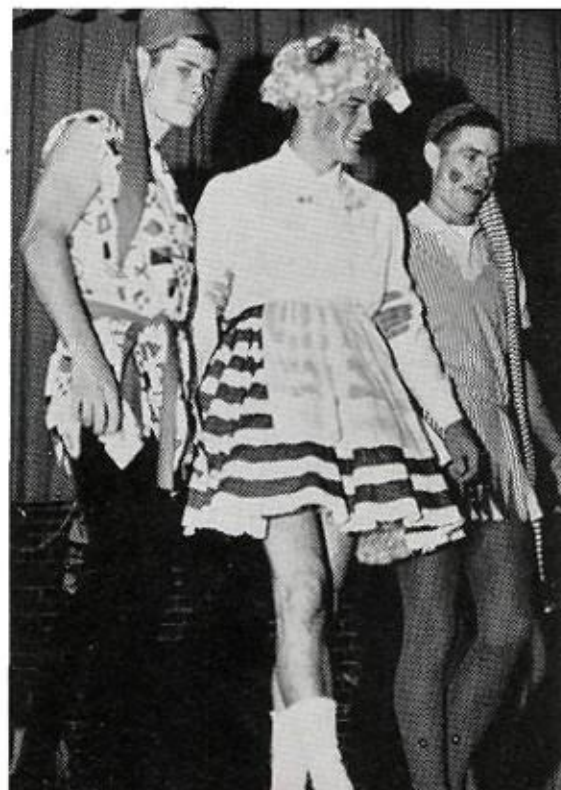

Jon Roper plays the part of Superman during the doll show.

HAVE YOU EVER SEEN A DREAM WALKING?

Felton Havins and Biff Flatt escort Doug Brown to his receiver.

I USE MENNEN'S. DO YOU?

Bob Lee and friend perform the Egyptian hand dance for the students.

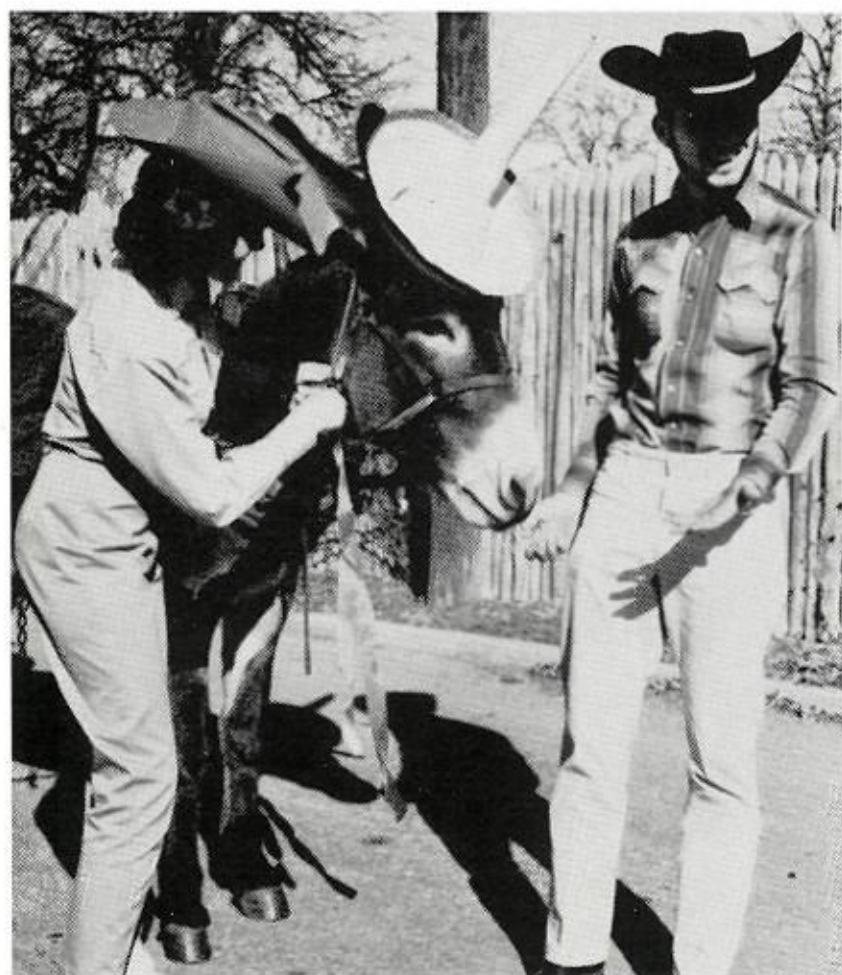

Highlanders Appear in Western Attire

One of the important features of life at Eastern Hills is the annual Ranch Day, where the halls are turned into scenes from the old West. Traditional Highlander plaids are replaced with modern, as well as old fashioned, western wear.

I KNOW THAT WOMEN WERE THE BACKBONE OF THE WEST, BUT THIS IS JUST TOO MUCH!

Some EHHS seniors clown while enjoying a free ride.

DO YOU THINK NEW OUTFITS WOULD HELP?

Marsha Routt, Sue Jennings, Linda Hawkins, and Judy Mallicote entertain the student body at the Ranch Day program.

NOW WHAT'LL WE DO WITH THIS . . .

Darla Houlihan and Teddy Gober outfit a new friend with the latest in sombreros.

NEIMAN MARCUS—1840.

Karen Bacon, Camilla Porter, Mary Ann Fry, and Lee Singleton model their Ranch Day costumes.

NO, GENE, THE HATS DON'T COME WITH THE JACKETS.

Ranch Day brings western wear and football letter jackets to EHHS.

February Brings Football Jackets

SHALL I CALL IN A CONSULTANT OR LOUSE IT UP MYSELF?

Gary Granger looks on with anticipation as Mike Martin gives Basketball Queen Judy Oxford the traditional handshake (?) upon her presentation at the last basketball game.

EVERYBODY MAKE ROOM FOR THE RUNWAY!

Eastern Hills' first basketball banquet is enjoyed by the team and their guests.

THIS IS THE BIGGEST SNOW-JOB WE'VE EVER SEEN. Zoe Ann Hunter and Marsha Routt snowball the annual's photographer during one of Fort Worth's few snow falls.

Variety Adds Spice

Throughout the year, various assemblies and activities add spice to school life. One of the highlights for juniors is ordering their class rings, but an even happier moment comes when the rings arrive. Special assemblies were given by visitors, but one of the most enjoyable was presented by the stage band and featured Carolyn Kynard and Felton Havins, doing the twist.

A RING FOR YOUR NOSE??? Lewis Miller orders his senior ring from Haltom's Jewelers.

THE MORE THEY CLAP... Carolyn Kynard and Felton Havins demonstrate the various aspects of the twist.

DON'T YOU JUST HATE WEARING THE SAME OLD RAGS TO SCHOOL EVERY WEEK?

Nominees, anxiously awaiting the results of the judges, stand backstage during the beauty pageant of the Big "E" Jubilee.

Big "E" Brings Laughter, Thrills

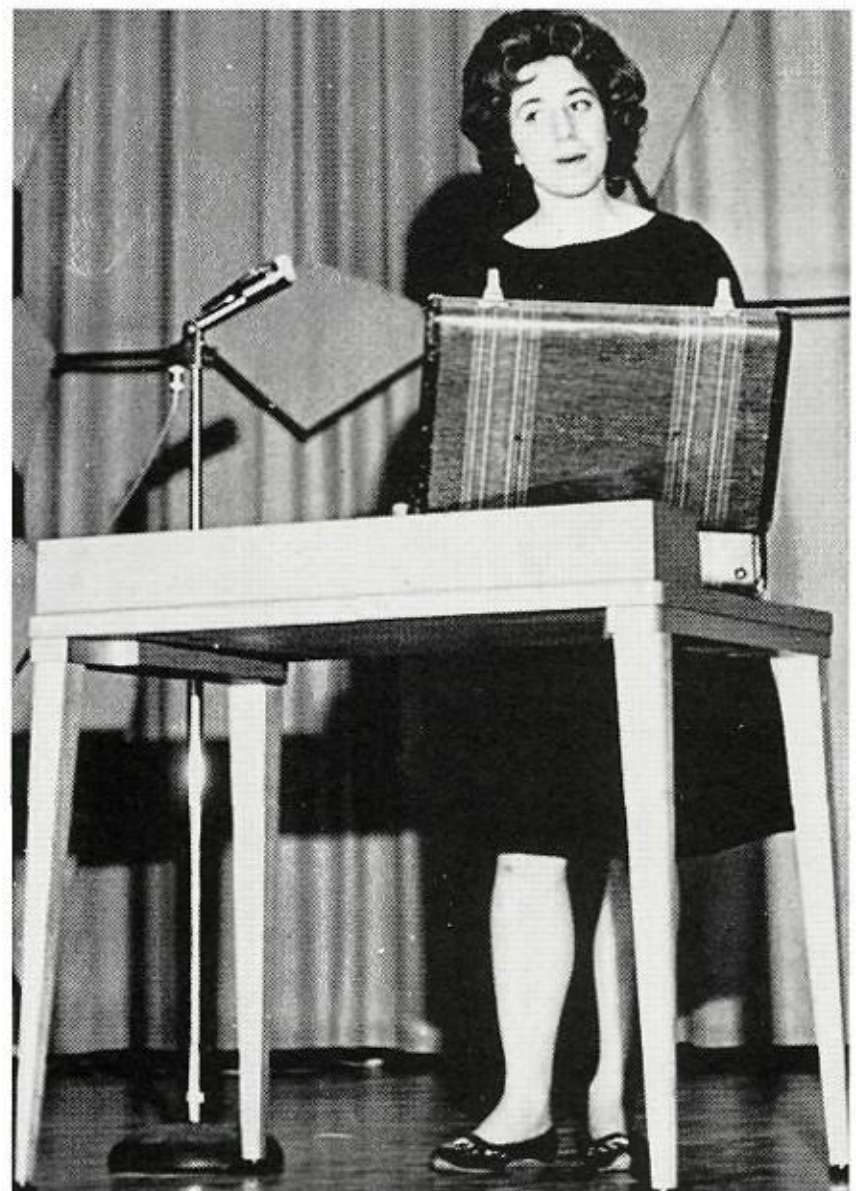

ET TU, ALICE!

Carol Reeder has just found out she won the Big "E" beauty pageant and is being congratulated by Alice Bretz.

DO YOU USE PUCKER-UP PERFECT LIPSTICK WITH THAT SECRET INGREDIENT, ALUM?

Jan Cardwell performs for the student body her well known comedy act which won her the talent contest.

BOYS, ARE YOU STILL USING THAT GREASY KID STUFF?
Jack Gray and the "Sing Along with Twitch" gang amuse the Big "E" audience.

Big "E" Spoofs TV

One of the highlights of this year's Big "E" Jubilee was the Emmy Awards program. More than two hundred Highlanders participated in the satirical presentation.

THIS IS THE DARNDDEST DAMP WEATHER!

Beauty Queen contender Marsha Routt sends the crowd into peals of laughter with her imitation of Keely Smith.

IT'S OKAY, COACH; WE ALL HAVE PASSES.

A group of EHHS golfers take time out to perform for the Big "E."

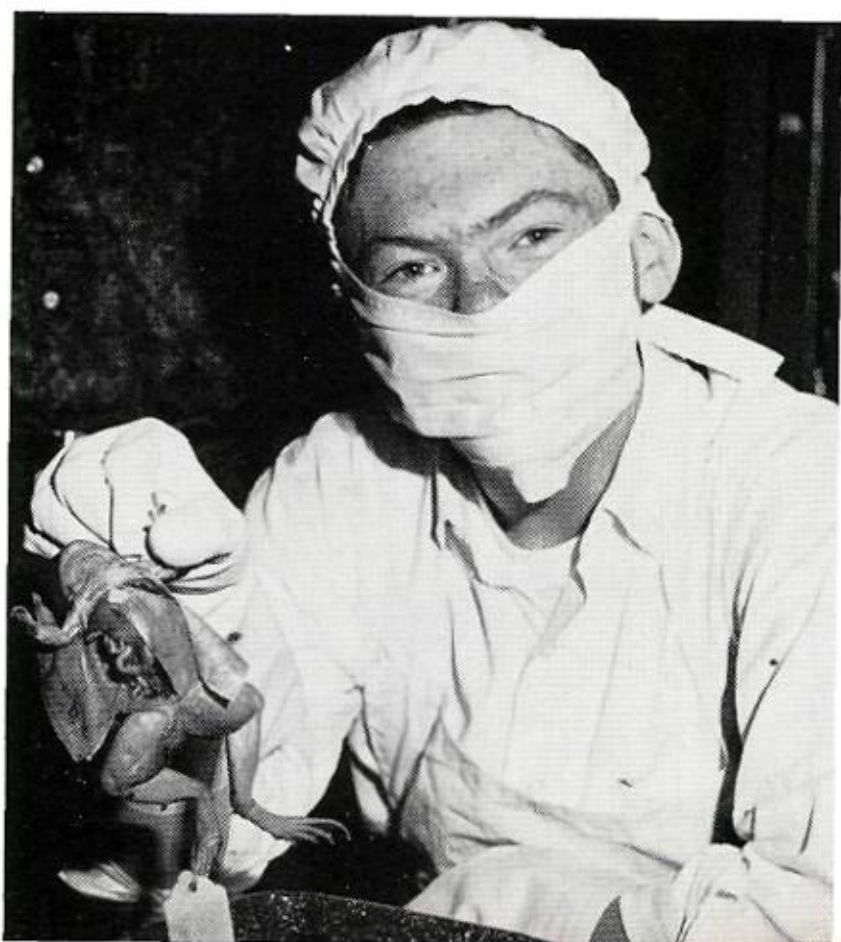

Every Day Brings Different Activities

As long as there are mischievous students, antics in the halls and classrooms will be unpredictable. Frogs even visit biology labs, and rabbits come hopping on the stage while models are showing their creations. It is only on rare occasions, however, that students look through the windows instead of out the windows.

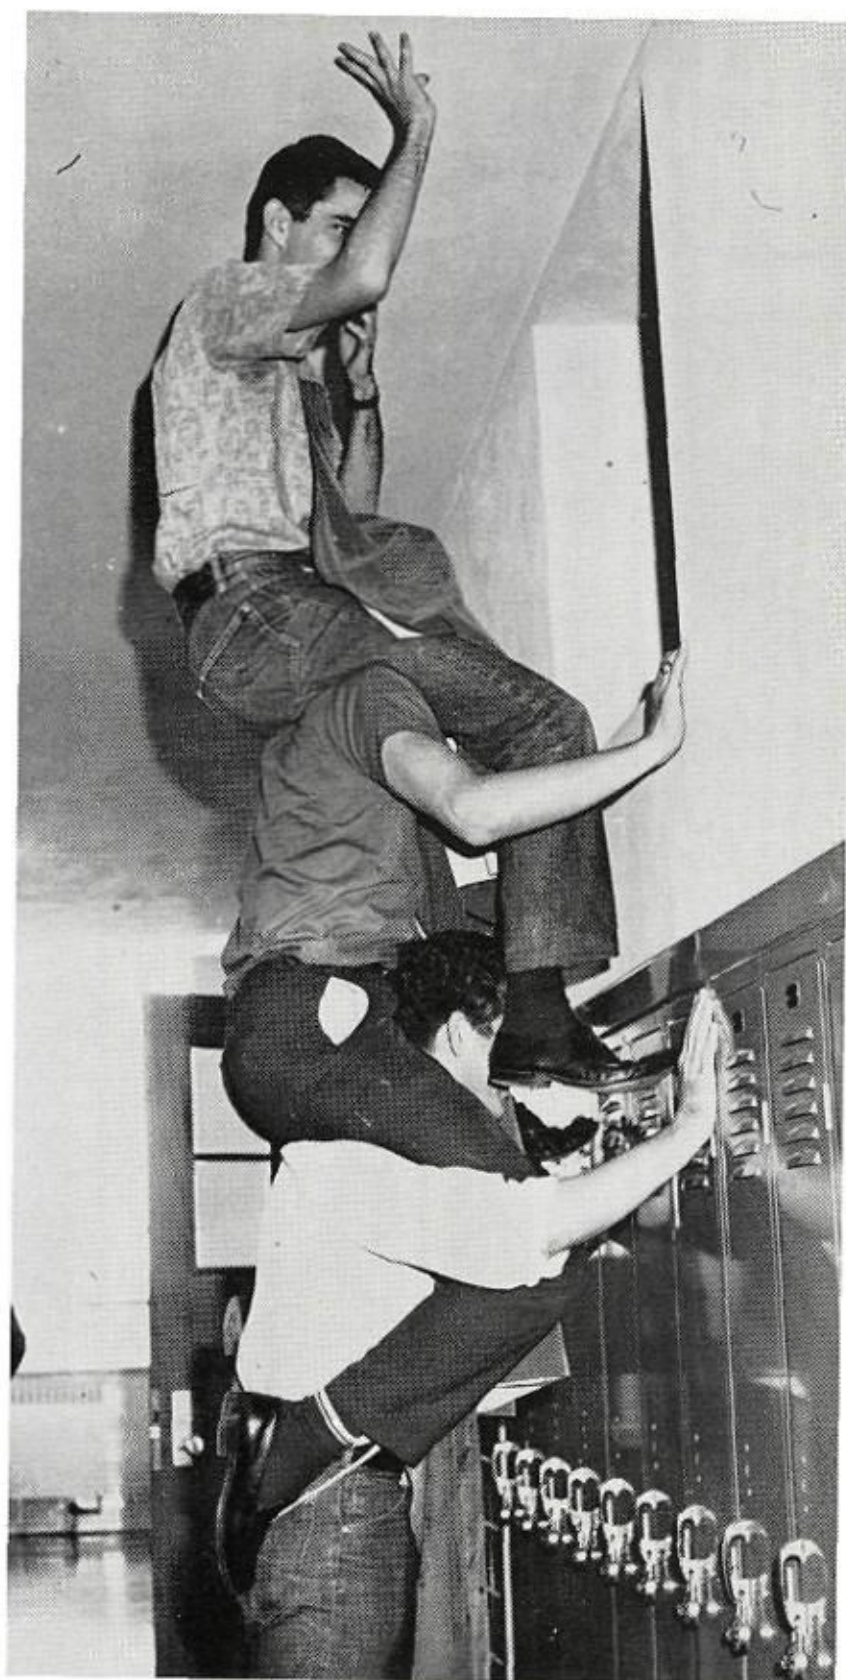

DO YOU SEE A BIG WHITE RABBIT, TOO, OR AM I SLAP-HAPPY?

Brenda Barnes models for the Easter Bunny in the spring fashion show.

CHEF CASEY: LUNCH, ANYONE?

Mike Cobb prepares for work on the anatomy of a frog.

GET THAT KNEE OUT OF MY EYE, WILL YOU; I CAN'T SEE THE ANSWER TO #6.

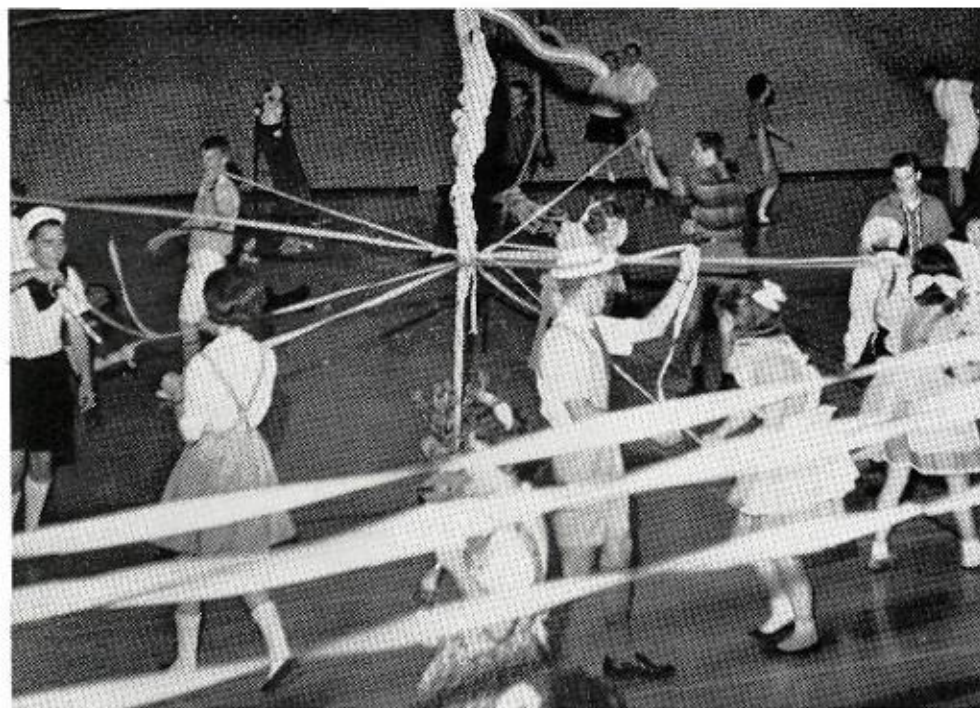

Jim Moser, Bruce Schnitzer, and Doug Stephens try some out-of-class activities in EH's halls.

THIS IS ONE WAY TO GET OFF THE GROUND!

Highlanders go back into a second childhood at the Kiddie Dance.

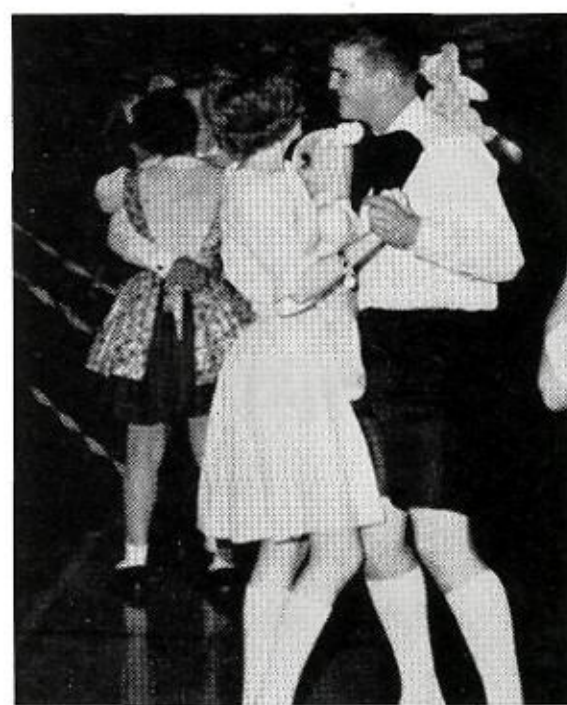

Y-Teens Sponsor Annual Kiddie Dance

DID YOU EVER GET THE FEELING YOU WERE GOING AROUND IN CIRCLES?

A group of EH students enjoy dancing the May pole.

BOBBY, YOUR KNEES TICKLE!

Bob Lee and Jean Ferguson dance together at their last Kiddie Dance.

NOW, FOR THE BEST DRESSED DIAPER SET...

Jim Ann Speck makes award to the best dressed couple at the dance, Shelia Ward and Kirk Meer.

Who's Who

Students chosen for Who's Who this year were selected by the faculty on a departmental basis. Eligibility was limited to seniors who had a grade-point average of 3.0 and an A average in citizenship for the first semester. Each departmental section selected its outstanding student according to contributions made in the particular area of election, as well as the student's interest and creativity beyond his classroom work.

Double, double, toil and trouble was the chant of the managers as they willfully but sometimes reluctantly took care of the team from head to heel. The three were Jerry Hendricks, Fred Alvord, and Johnny Alcon.

One factor which gave the Highlanders added desire was the backing of the Highlandettes. The much-appreciated group signified the great spirit shown throughout the season. This spirit spread quickly through the student body and has seemingly taken root for a long stay.

Highlander Offense Crushes Steers, Parrots

Sam Scott goes over for a third quarter touchdown against North Side. The Highlanders dropped the Steers by a comfortable margin at Farrington Field. This was the best over-all performance of the season with the Highlanders rolling up over 300 yards total offense. An effective scoring punch was the passing of Henry to Gober and the running of Cooper, Miller, and Scott.

Highlanders pick up a first down against Haltom in a hard-fought game. This first down helped set up the lone Highlander score with a Henry to Miller pass inside the ten yard line.

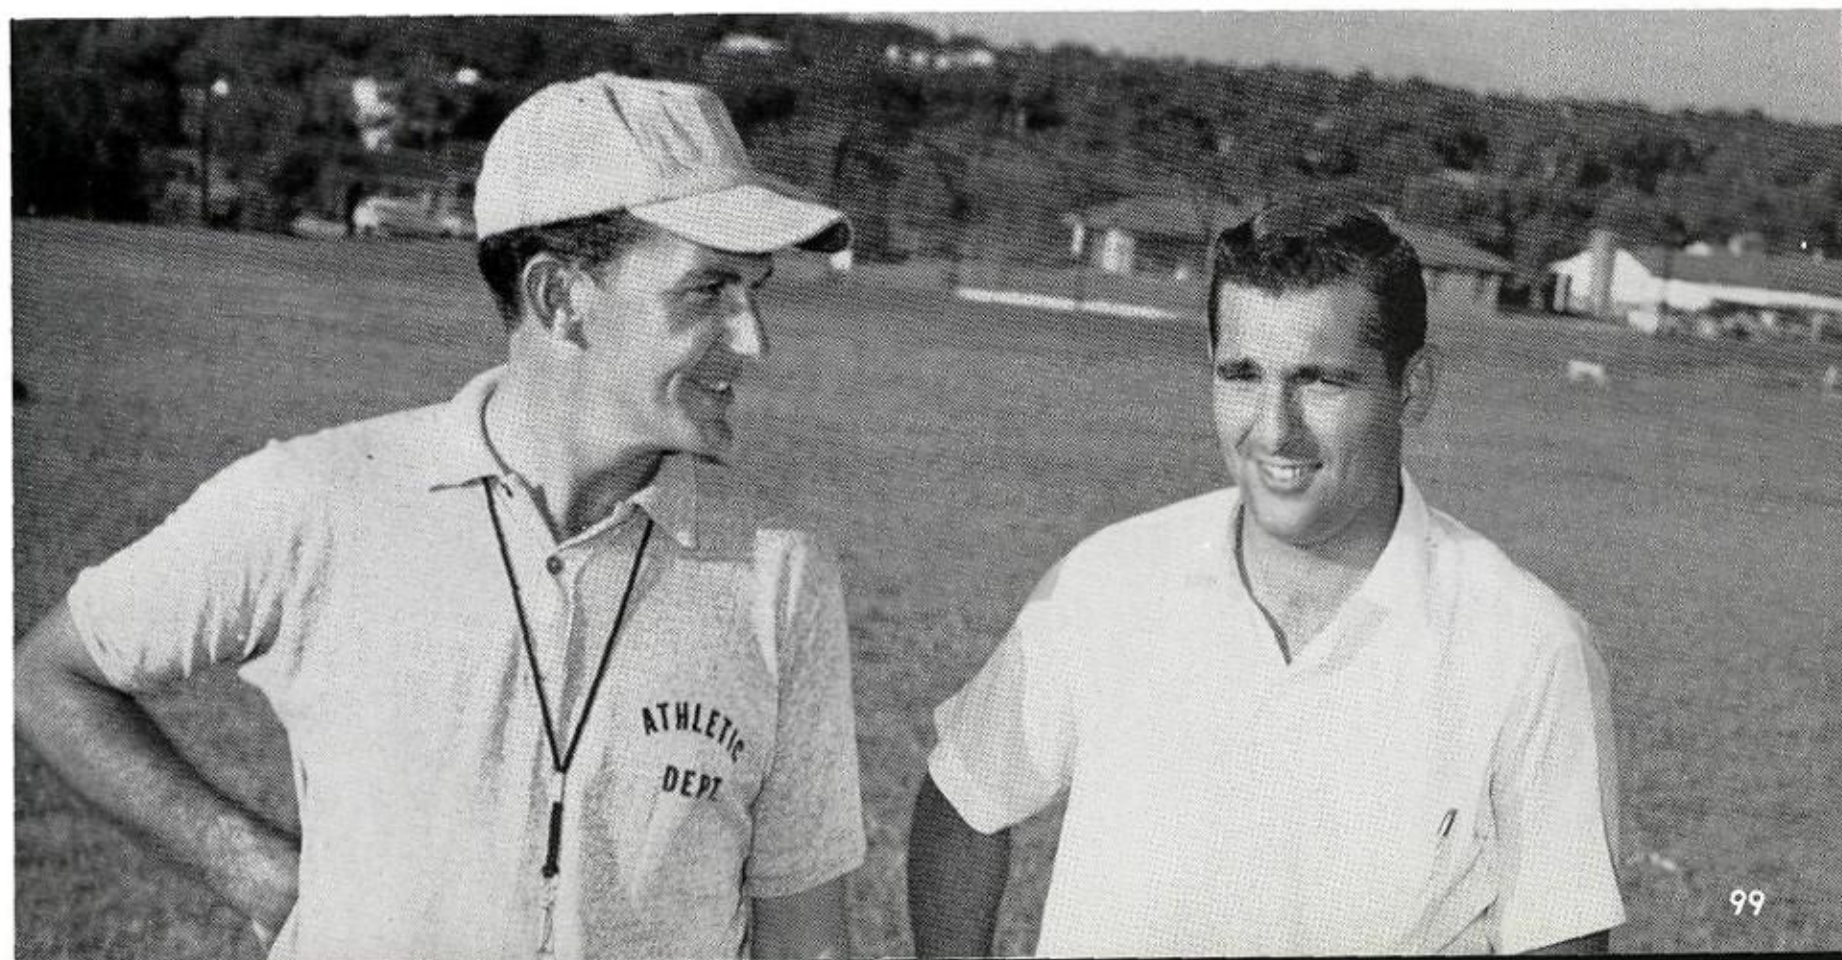

Co-Captains Henry and Walker led the Highlanders in the 1961-1962 football season.

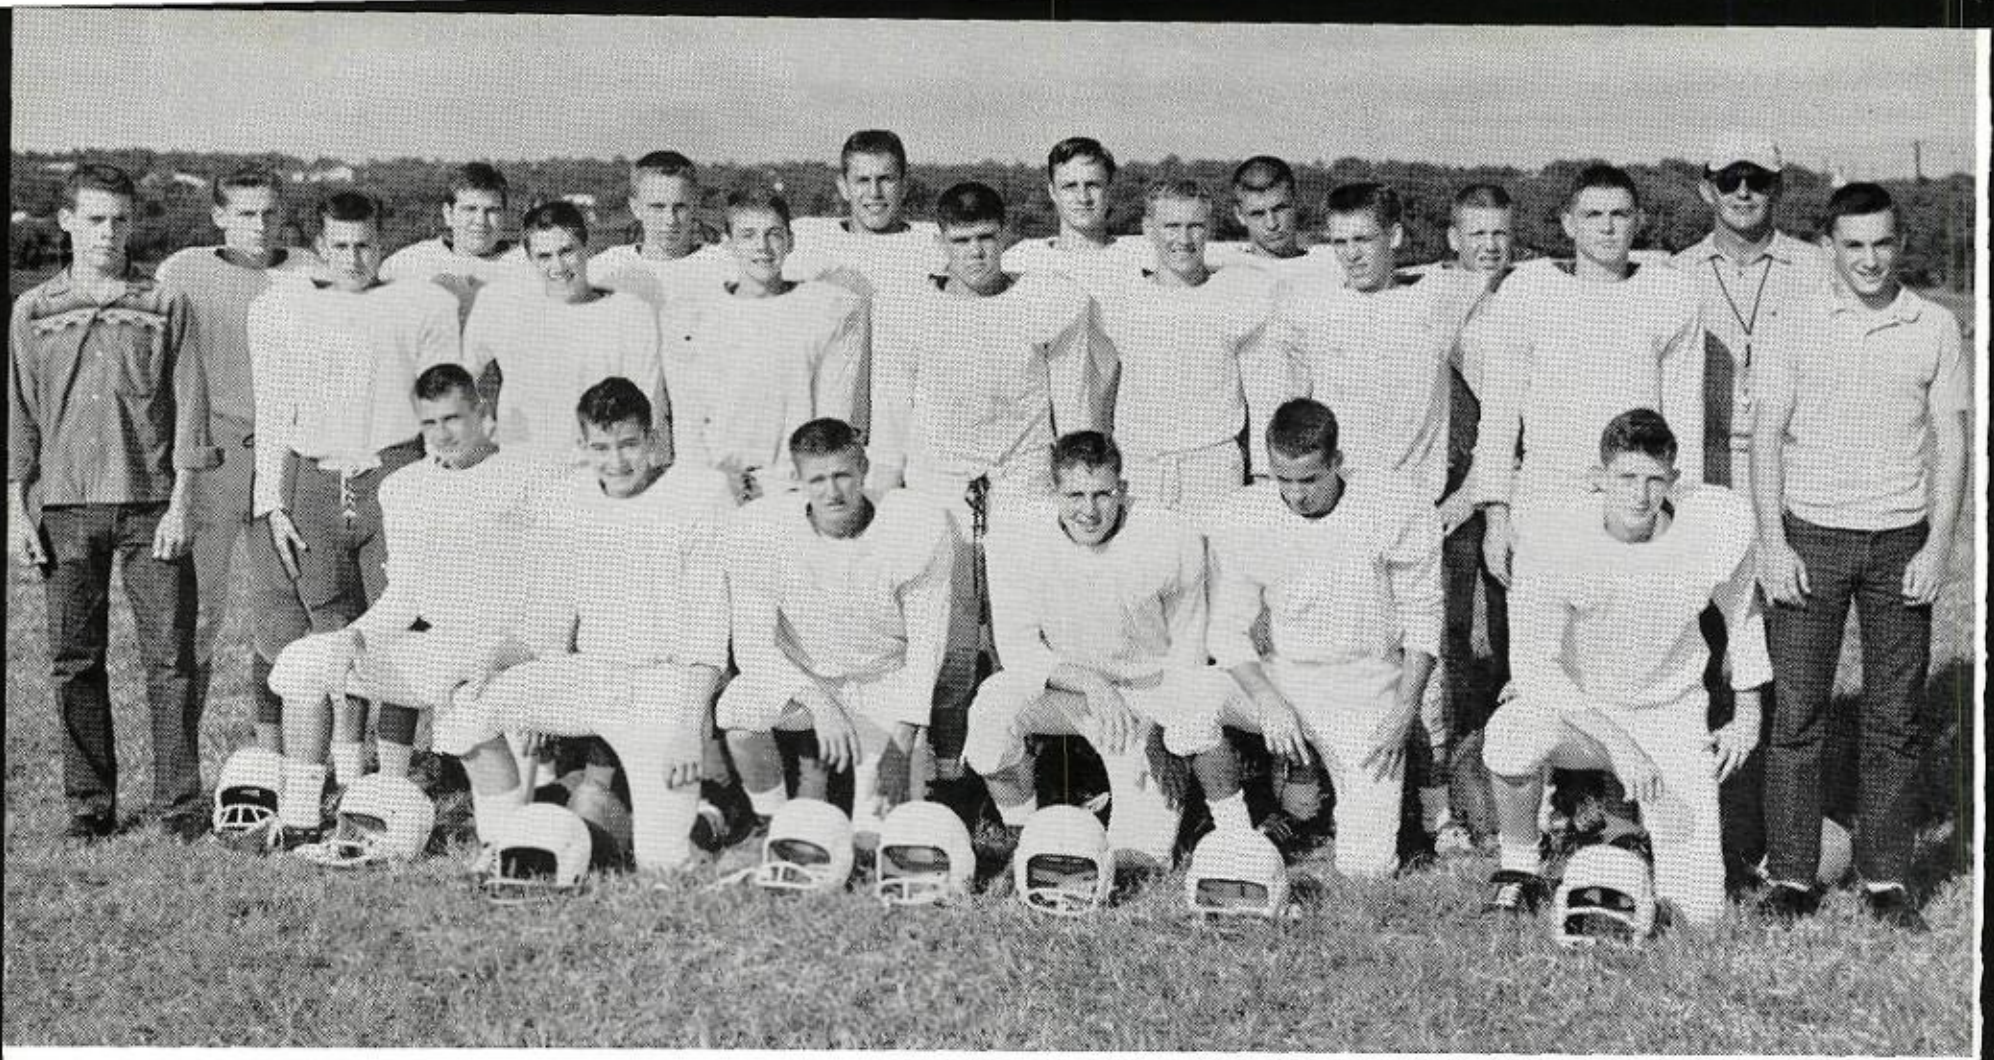

An inspiration this year was the addition of Hot Toddy, Highlander scottie mascot. Toddy was cared for by Scottie Willingham as pictured above.

Walker, Henry Serve as Captains

North Side, Poly Succumb to Mitcham's Clan

Eastern Hills drives downfield during the second half of play to run up the score against the Parrots. Jim Cooper (24), Phil Nixon, Bob Lee, Sam Scott, Kip Miller, and Teddy Goner did their share in posting the victory.

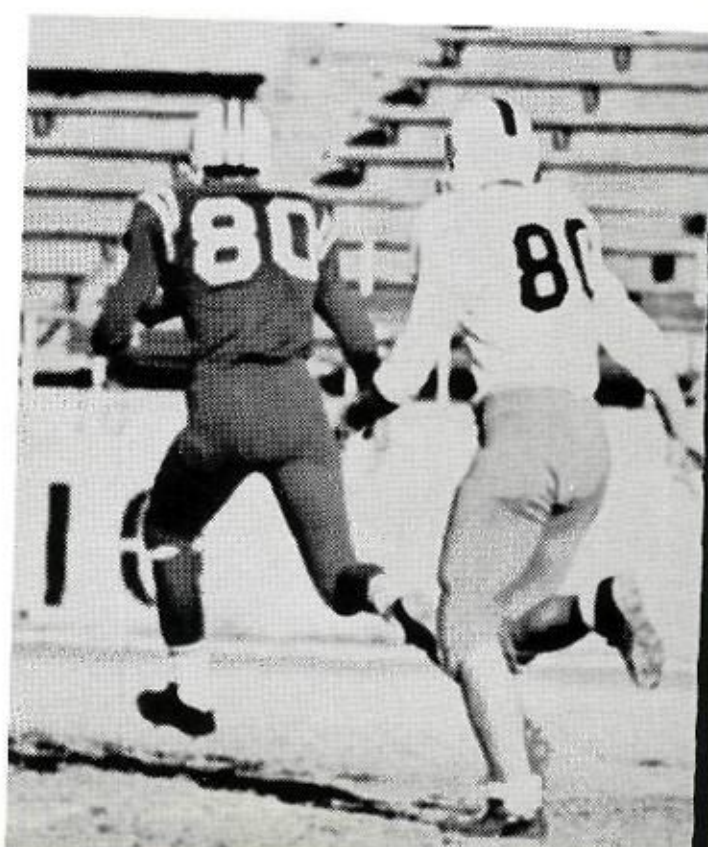

Dust rises in the afternoon shadows as Jim Cooper, with ball, Kirby Halm, James Greenwood and Steve Means say, "Watch out, Steers! Here we come!"

Season Ends With 21-0 Victory

Gus Bierman (66), Mike Henry (10), and Bob Lee (78), say, "Hang on, Louis; we're coming to help." With a rock-ribbed defense, three times the Highlanders stopped Carter's scoring attempts.

As an omen of good things to come, EH scores on the final offensive play of season with James Greenwood taking a Henry pass which dropped the curtain on the 1961 season in a game with Poly.

Cagers Compile 11-16 Record

Even though they gained their first district victory in 4A competition, a 68-52 conquest of Tech, Highlander round ballers had a season record of 1-11 in district play. This does not tell the complete story, however. In non-district competition they compiled a record of eight straight victories before being handed a setback to Hillcrest of Dallas in the Richardson tournament. Their overall record was 11-16. Most observers agreed with Coach McBee that if the team could have stopped after three quarters, their record would have been a winning one.

Coach Graves and '62 Highlander baseball captain, Mike Henry, combine to show the bat which produced many hits for the team this past season.

Henry Captains Clansmen During Baseball Season

Coach Graves observes his leaf-off man Jim Cooper, who prepares to streak to first base in an afternoon game against Carter.

Moundsmen, Catchers Work Together

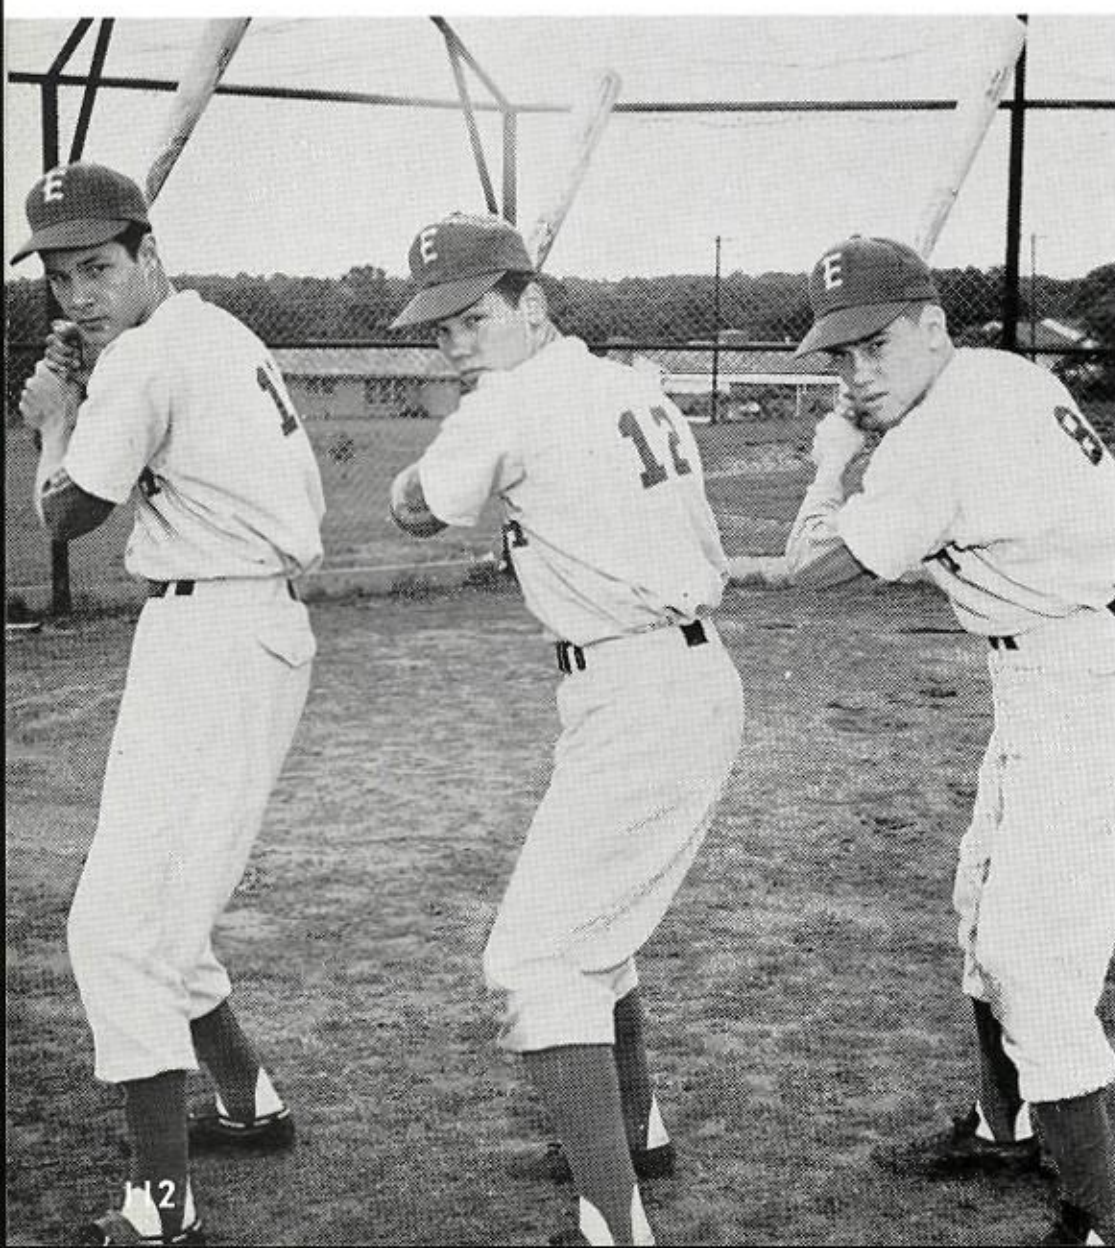

Behind the plate for the '62 Highlanders were Mike Henry and Mike Cooper, respectively. This duo of catchers helped to provide an effective defensive game, as well as dependable performances at the plate.

Greek statues are noted for their strength. This is also evident in the 1962 Highlander infield. Their defensive abilities are overshadowed only by their team spirit. They are, left to right: Leslie Jackson, Ken Hall, Max Rhodes, Jim Anders, and Bob Ladd.

Fielders Sparkle in Defensive Work

Great shades of Ty Cobb! Roaming the far green expanses of the outfield were, left to right: Jim Hill, Jim Cooper, and Ted Harris. Determination was the keynote which spelled hits for these three teammates, who also turned in outstanding defensive work.

In all sports a major factor which may sometimes be overlooked is the pressure on an athlete. No matter how great this pressure may be, it is rarely noticeable because of the participant's devotion to his team. This is exemplified at the right as Jim Anders does not hesitate to heed Coach Graves' signal to slide.

Practice Teacher Guides B Team on the Diamond

Eastern Hills B team posted an outstanding season with the help of Mr. Garrow, student coach from TCU. D. Farmer, Roy Vandiver, Doug Stephens, James Greenwood, Steve Helmericks, Jimmy Aitken, James Gilmartin, Charles Nimitz, and G. W. Austin.

Highlander shot putters are LeRoy Gast and Wade Walker, who placed fourth in district.

Participating in field events were Guy Perkins, high jump, and discus, Steve Helmericks and Charles Nimitz, who was sixth in the district meet.
